

Prague is both the capital and largest city in the Czech Republic and also one of the most beautiful cities in Europe. Prague is called the City of a hundred spires, the Golden City, the Mother of Cities or the Heart of Europe. The extensive historic centre of Prague has been included in the UNESCO list of World Heritage Sites since 1992. During the year, many tourists come to Prague to visit the places of interest and enjoy sightseeing.

Czech University of Life Sciences in Prague (CZU) is a public university that was founded in its current form in 1952. CZU comprises six faculties/colleges of which the Faculty of Economics and Management (FEM) is the largest economic faculty in the Czech Republic with nearly 9,000 enrolled students. The Ministry of Education of the Czech Republic lists FEM as one of the best economic educational institutions in the country.

Summer schools

Since 1992 our Faculty has been providing tailor-made summer/winter schools (short-term student mobility) focusing on various topics such as Business, Management, Computer Science, Agriculture, Sustainable Development, Cultural Studies, and many others. Every year more than 200 students take part in these programmes.

According to the Guinness World Records, the Prague Castle is the largest ancient castle in the world. Prague is a perfect place to be for students looking for low costs of living and affordable study. As the capital of the Czech Republic has the lowest unemployment rate in the European Union, the students should not find it difficult to get a part time job.
